

WATER SENSE LABEL

Water sense is an EPA partnership program which gives products that meet the standard an independent third party testing and certification.

ADVANTAGES

The water sense label on products endures that they are 20% more efficient than their non-labeled counterparts and perform better.

There are also some WaterSense professional service programs that receive the certification by incorporating a strong energy-efficiency component.

For more information, refer the EPA website.